STORY

Paris. End of 1960s... In the capital of culture, art and fashion, winds of incoscience are blowing. Mademoiselle Birel, while studying in one of the most important design schools in the city, Ernest is acquainting and absorbing the techniques of famous designers such as Thierry Mugler, Claude Montana, and Azzeina Alaia...

Meanwhile, in the same era, Yohji Yamamoto, Issey Miyake and Rei Kawakubo the creator of the brand "Comme des Garçons", are arriving to Paris and starting a movement, which passes into history as "Japantisme".

The futuristic movement, which was initiated by Japanese designers brings in a brand new "freedom" approach to the female body, by turning the traditional notion of volume upside down.

Mademoiselle Birel is reflecting the excitement of creation in her soul to her canvas, which she creates with organic and architectural touches, and is exploring her passion for the color black.

YÜKSEK İŞİLTİLER

Bluzlar, feminen detaylarıyla dikkat çekiyorlar. Taş, inci, zımba ve zincir süslemeler farklı stillere izin verirken, her ortamda tercih ediliyorlar. Volanın, fırfırın ve fiyonkun etkisi modellere hakim. Dantel ise tek başına sofistike ve özgür.
